

The figure displays a 20x20 grid representing a sparse matrix. The diagonal elements are all 1.0. Other non-zero elements are scattered throughout the grid, representing the off-diagonal entries of the matrix. The matrix is symmetric, as the non-zero elements are mirrored across the diagonal.

